

A place to hide

All i need of you tonight are some thoughts and some wine
A place where I can hide and a shoulder to recline
A room which is not yours, filled with all the doubt
No rotten walls - your hands are raw from trying to fix with grout

I/You need to lay down all the work which has to be done
The high expectations or the urge to rise with the sun
'Cause every minute I lose, every mistake I chose, I fear I get the payback at the end of the week
But not when i'm with you - however we do it, let's find and fill the leak

I/You don't need answers, just the right questions
Let us share laughter or shed tears to loose the congestions

So tell me your sorrows that trouble your heart and you will tell what you see
I'm so trapped in a vicious circle but now we're here to set me/you free
We will hold on to the good and precious, 'cause it lies with us to decide what to do with the time, that is given us and open wide

I/You don't need answers, just the right questions
Let us share laughter or shed tears to loose the congestions

I always step into a trouble-trap
I never see any way
To sort all the rubble-crap
So I just sit there and stay
Surrounded by bubble-wrap,
And I try to double-tap
But nothing pop's up

How common is always
And never
There are pearls around you,
Pick them up and sever
The wearing destructive
Chain of thoughts

I would have given
You the same advice
But there are fears around me
Caught up in the trice

What would have been the words for me
If I would have come to you
With all the dark I foresee
You would help me find what's true
That's why we're here

I/ You don't need answers, just the right questions
Let us share laughter or shed tears to loose the congestions
